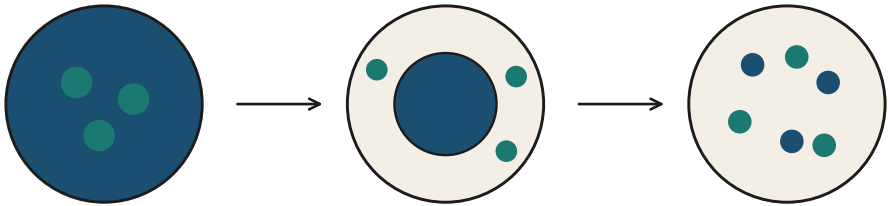
One particle model, two prescribed baths



Faner: prescribed hexane bath
DT: prescribed steam-rich bath

One conservative particle model couples hexane removal, water uptake and heat transfer through three phase regimes.

The prescribed DT particle exits with 17.5% moisture and 138 ppm hexane on a wet basis.

The Faner falling interval is 25.4 s measured and 17.7 s predicted.